IMPORTANT NOTE CONCERNING SMALL ENTITIES

United States patent law currently provides for reduction of most fees payable to the United States Patent and Trademark Office (PTO), including filing, extension, and maintenance fees, by fifty percent (50%) for a patent or patent application pertaining to an invention owned by a "small entity," which can be an independent inventor^{1/}, a non-profit organization^{2/}, or a small business concern^{3/} as defined in the law.

Small entity status will be lost if any rights in the invention are (or are made subject to an obligation to be) licensed or transferred to a party other than a small entity, or if the patent owner or applicant ceases to qualify as a small entity (for example, by reason of internal growth or affiliation). The loss of small entity status must be reported to the PTO in connection with each patent or patent application, and the fee reduction will no longer be applicable. Continued payment at the reduced rate by a party that has lost small entity status can result in a finding of invalidity of the patent or patent application. Consequently, we urge that patent owners or applicants with small entity status check to ensure that they continue to qualify for such status before payment of each fee.

- 1/ An independent inventor is defined as an inventor who has not transferred or licensed, and is under no obligation to transfer or license, any rights in the invention to any person who could not likewise be classified as an independent inventor if that person made the invention or to any concern that would not qualify as a non-profit organization or a small business concern.
- 2/ A non-profit organization is defined as (1) a university or other institution of higher education located in any country, or (2) an organization having tax exempt status under sections 501(c)(3) and 501(a) of the United States Internal Revenue Code, or (3) any non-profit scientific or educational organization qualified under the non-profit laws of a state in the United States, or (4) any non-profit organization located in a foreign country that would, if located in the United States, qualify as a non-profit organization under either clause (2) or clause (3) above.
- 3/ A small business concern is defined as a business that, with its affiliates, has 500 or fewer full-time, part-time, and temporary employees, and that has not transferred or licensed, and is under no obligation to transfer or license, any rights in the invention to any person or entity who could not likewise be classified as a small entity. Concerns are affiliates of each other when either, directly or indirectly, one concern controls or has the power to control the other, or a third party or parties controls or has the power to control both. The number of employees of a business concern is determined by averaging the number of persons of the concern and its affiliates employed on a full-time, part-time or temporary basis during each of the pay periods for the preceding completed twelve (12) calendar months.

STATEMENT CLAIMING SMALL ENTITY STATUS

Applicant(s): Turek et al.
Serial No: 09/892,205
Date Filed: June 26, 2001
For: Method and Apparatus for Establishing a Customized Electronic Site

I have read the Important Note Concerning Small Entities provided to me with this document.¹

It is my understanding that yoLogo, Inc. is entitled to claim small entity status for purposes of paying reduced fees with regard to the above invention because:

yoLogo, Inc. qualifies as a small business as described in the Important Note. Furthermore, rights to the captioned invention are not licensed or subject to obligation to be licensed to a party other than a small entity.

I acknowledge the duty to file, in this application, notification of any change in status resulting in loss of entitlement to small entity status prior to paying, or at the time of paying, the earliest of the issue fee or any maintenance fee due after the date on which status as a small business entity is no longer appropriate.
